

In 2006, grants and contributions supported FCAA's vital work.

FCAA

Funders Concerned About AIDS

The work of Funders Concerned About AIDS is made possible by foundation and corporate grants as well as personal contributions. This support speaks to the importance and the potential of the philanthropic response in the fight against HIV/AIDS in the United States and internationally and our collective role in this effort.

$100,000 and above

Ford Foundation

$20,000 to $99,999

Altria Group, Inc.
Johnson & Johnson
M•A•C AIDS Fund
Pfizer Inc
UNAIDS

$10,000 to $19,999

Abbott Laboratories Fund
Broadway Cares/Equity
Fights AIDS
Gill Foundation
GlaxoSmithKline
The George Gund
Foundation
The Henry J. Kaiser
Family Foundation
Wells Fargo Foundation

$1,001 to $9,999

Bristol-Myers Squibb
Foundation
The Design Industries
Foundation Fighting AIDS
(DIFFA)
Doris Duke Charitable Trust
amfAR
Evelyn and Walter Haas,
Jr. Fund

Harvard Pilgrim Health
Care Foundation
John M. Lloyd Foundation
Merck Company
Foundation
Open Society Institute
Pettus Crowe Foundation,
Inc.
Roche
Saint Luke's Foundation
of Cleveland, Ohio

$750 to $1,000

The Irene Diamond Fund
Irvine Health Foundation
The Ittleson Foundation
Kansas Health Foundation,
Wichita, Kansas
Ms. Foundation for Women
Staying Alive Foundation
H. van Ameringen
Foundation

Up to $749

American Jewish World
Service
John Barnes
Boston Foundation
Stuart Burden
The California
Endowment
Michelle Coffey

Irene Crowe
Dade Community
Foundation
Beth Darmstadter
Michael Dively
Firelight Foundation
Desiree Flores
Ralph Fuccillo
Jacob Gayle
The Wallace Anderson
Gerbode Foundation
David Gould
James Hormel
Jennifer Kates
Deborah Landesman
LaTida Lester
Levi Strauss Foundation
Len McNally
The Metro Health
Foundation
Samora Fund
Sue Simon
Christian Sonne
Tides Foundation
Bernard van Leer
Foundation
Gifts In-Kind
Altria Group, Inc.
Darrel Frost
The New York
Community Trust
Unemployed Philosopher's
Guild