

Funders Concerned About AIDS

Mobilizing Philanthropic Leadership, Ideas, and Resources in the Fight Against AIDS

FCAA MEMBERSHIP LEVELS

For thirty years, Funders Concerned About AIDS (FCAA) has monitored and informed the philanthropic response to AIDS – conducting research, analyzing trends, facilitating best practice sharing and fostering collaboration.

FCAA's membership structure is meant to ensure that its critical work can continue until there is an end to AIDS. While we will continue to gratefully accept donations of any amount, we now also provide a table (see page 2) with suggested levels of support based on the type of organization and the level of giving to HIV/AIDS-related issues. The table provides a range of support which includes the base "member" level; the "sustaining" level, denoting the support expected from Board members; and the "leadership" level, support from those organizations which drive our work forward through grants and other additional sponsorships. Each level has corresponding benefits and opportunities for recognition. We encourage you to speak with the staff to further explore your organization's support of FCAA. Staff contact information is provided below.

Thank you for helping us to ensure that the important work of FCAA can and will continue with your support.

FCAA welcomes individual support at any level and is approved to receive matching gifts from employers.

As member-supporters of FCAA, you have the opportunity to connect with and learn from your peers. FCAA believes that informing and connecting you with your colleagues will lead to more effective and responsive grantmaking, and thus, an improvement in the field overall.

Benefits include:

1. Recognition on our website, annual AIDS Philanthropy Summit, annual report and other public membership materials – an opportunity to demonstrate your organization’s commitment to the fight against HIV/AIDS, and positioning you alongside other leaders in the field.
2. Facilitation of, and advisory support in, convening local or regional conversations with other funders;
3. Access to staff expertise and technical assistance services
4. Responsive programs on emerging issues and their potential impact on grantmaking
5. Priority invitation to networking calls, working groups, panel and online discussions, and receptions/conferences
6. Special discounted registration for FCAA’s annual AIDS Philanthropy Summit and other events.

In addition to these direct benefits, your membership dues are also crucial to making our core programming possible, including:

- Advocacy: educating stakeholders on important issues relevant to the global response to HIV and AIDS.
- Convenings: bringing together funders and other stakeholders to network and share best practices.
- Resource Tracking: FCAA has been tracking the field of HIV-related philanthropy for 14 years through the signature report, Philanthropic Support to Address HIV/AIDS.

Thank you for helping us to ensure that the important work of FCAA can and will continue, with your support.
