Thank you for your interest in joining the funder briefing on Wednesday, April 17th where we discussed an important update to the US administration’s second expansion of the Global Gag Rule, which we believe has profoundly harmful implications for private funders, bilateral and multilateral funders, and the movements and communities we support.

As a follow-up to this discussion, please see below to access a recording of the webinar, resources, and indicate your interest in receiving updates regarding opportunities to continue this important conversation, including participating in a day-long convening:

1. To indicate interest in a day-long convening related to the Global Gag Rule as a manifestation of rising extremism, fundamentalism and anti-rights agendas, click here.
2. Please find a recording of the What Funders Should Know April 17 webinar here.
3. An overview of the policy change and some actions we discussed on the call is available here.
4. Find the PAI infographic that explains the latest expansion here.
5. Please find additional resources provided by the speakers here.
6. For more information about the pro bono legal network, please click here.
7. To read more about rising extremism, fundamentalism, and anti-rights agendas as they affect LGBTQI rights, please click here.

Once again, on behalf of the conveners and speakers, thank you for taking the time to learn more about this important issue and how it may affect your funding, partners, and the communities and movements we support.

Please do not hesitate to let us know via this link if you would like more information about ways you can take action or liaise with the convening group of funders working together to galvanize attention and resources to mitigate the harms of this policy and build alternatives to regressions in US leadership in the face of rising extremism, fundamentalism, and anti-rights agendas around the world.
