

FUNDERS CONCERNED ABOUT AIDS MEMBERSHIP GUIDE

ESSENTIAL RESOURCES FOR HIV-INFORMED GRANTMAKERS

WELCOME

Welcome to Funders Concerned About AIDS (FCAA)! We work to inform, connect, and support HIV-informed funders.

More than 45 philanthropic foundations and charities currently support FCAA as contributors. In 2020, these organizations collectively accounted for more than half (57%) of total HIV-related philanthropy.

As a global network of funders, FCAA welcomes diverse perspectives, facilitates open communication and debate, and promotes racial and gender equity and human rights. Having FCAA's tools at their fingertips helps ensure that the resources grantmakers mobilize have the greatest impact.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE AN HIV-INFORMED FUNDER

The COVID-19 pandemic made clear that the experience of HIV-informed grantmakers is essential. The world needs philanthropic funders that:

- Understand emergency responses to new epidemics and sustained efforts to bring epidemics to an end;
- Fund across intersecting issues of health, rights, community empowerment, and government funding, accountability, and action;
- Follow evidence, including both “standard” scientific evidence and community-generated evidence, and are willing to challenge stereotypes, stigma, and discrimination.

OUR MISSION

FCAA informs, connects, and supports philanthropy to mobilize resources to end the global HIV pandemic and build the social, political and economic commitments necessary to attain health, human rights, and justice for all.

OUR VISION

FCAA envisions a world without AIDS.

INFORM

FCAA tracks, interprets, and shares information about HIV related funding, policies, and programs. Learn about trends and best practices in the HIV-informed funding landscape through FCAA's:

Resource Tracking Reports

FCAA's signature report, Philanthropic Support to Address HIV and AIDS, is the most comprehensive study of its kind. Our latest report captures data on more than 5,000 grants, awarded by 323 foundations in 10 countries, and identifies gaps, trends, and opportunities in HIV-related philanthropy.

Data Spotlights

FCAA develops data visualizations highlighting areas in need of continued funding and programming in the global response to the epidemic. Each of these data spotlights focus on funding of key issues, geographies, and populations.

Research Initiatives

FCAA regularly produces briefings, reports, analyses of challenges and best practices on issues of interest to HIV-informed funders.

Communication Platforms

FCAA produces original content through its blog and through philanthropic, global health, mainstream, and social media. FCAA collaborates, where appropriate, with co-authors and a diversity of funders to highlight a range of perspectives.

CONNECT

FCAA convenes regular gatherings and facilitates collaboration, sharing of information, engaging in dialogue, and reinforcing relationships for effective grantmaking.

Attending a Networking Event or Webinar

We hold many events, both large scale meetings and more intimate discussions, throughout the year. For example, at the annual FCAA Summit, we mobilize members to share good practices and strategies to increase the amount and impact of HIV-informed philanthropy, while also providing space for networking and community building. At our annual Advocacy Forum, we gather a diverse group of stakeholders to assess the landscape and identify concrete action steps to ensure continued progress in funding the HIV fight. FCAA also organizes regular online discussions and webinars among members about developments and challenges in global health and human rights.

Joining a Working Group

FCAA working groups are member-driven platforms that provide learning and networking opportunities among funders looking to mobilize resources and bring heightened awareness to specific issues in HIV-informed philanthropy.

Current and recent working groups have focused on such issues as HIV in Eastern Europe and Central Asia, the COVID-19 pandemic, and racial justice.

SUPPORT

FCAA promotes and facilitates HIV-informed funding initiatives, partnerships and tools to drive toward solutions and help advocate for change. FCAA will also support and amplify the voice of funders in advocacy, especially when HIV-informed funders are leaders on issues of racial and gender equality and justice; innovations in health or pressing issues of human rights; and needs for government responsiveness, accountability, and action.

Racial Justice Principles

In response to the clear gap between resources, as well as calls for philanthropic anti-racist action, the FCAA Racial Justice Working Group developed the Racial Justice in HIV Philanthropy Guiding Principles to help change how funders approach philanthropy.

History shows that efforts against HIV and AIDS will be needed for many decades to come. HIV-informed funding and activism must be sustained to end the epidemic and to build investments in health, rights, and justice to remove the conditions that still fuel preventable epidemics today.

Now is the time to protect the gains, push to end epidemics, and keep alive the promise of a better world. Let us know how FCAA can support your organization in pursuing this collective mission.
